Change Sizes

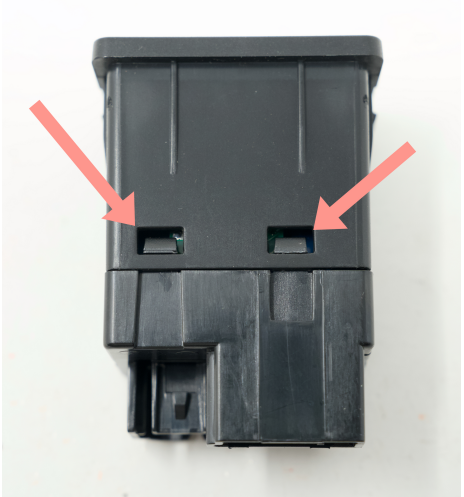

Directions: If you need to change the size of the bezel, here are the instructions on doing so.

- There are two ways to taking apart the bezel

  1. Start on one side and push in both tabs until that one side releases, hold it open, then do the same to the other side. This way may be a little tricky if the other side decides to close as you're trying to open the other

  2. Use the plastic prying tool and gently slide it in behind the the front of the bezel and work it towards the middle, between each of the tabs. Gently pry upwards so that both tabs clear the plastic so you can slide it out. Do the same to the other side. This method is easier and quicker however if you pry it too much you may crack the thin pieces of plastic that hold the clip in place.

- Slide the bezel apart, as shown below

- Carefully remove the PCB board inside and slide it into the new housing. The plastic trim pieces around the USB ports may fall off, just slide those back on and hold it at an angle upward to keep them in place. Push the rear housing that you removed in the beginning back into place, finishing the change.
